Description of the data and how it will be used to solve the problem.

- The data available of Toronto neighbourhood from Wikipedia
- The longitude-latitude locations data available from foursquare API
- Data of restaurants available in Toronto from foursquare API.

With these data on the location of different neighbourhoods and different location of restaturants, I would be able to get the correct locations in different locality of Toronto where a restaturant and franchise can be opened.